

InforMEA Diploma on International Environmental Law and Governance

Overview

Unlike individual InforMEA course certificates, the InforMEA Diploma will help you to gain a broader perspective and knowledge of the six thematic areas of InforMEA. You can follow the dedicated Learning Path for Environmental Governance at your own pace to obtain the InforMEA Diploma.

You can still obtain individual-courses certificates, but when you complete all the courses listed in an InforMEA Diploma, you will obtain a higher-level certification.

Obtaining the diploma

Go to the Diploma page to start taking the mandatory courses. Once you have obtained all the individual course certificates, you will be able to download your InforMEA Diploma on International Environmental Law and Governance.

Mandatory courses

To obtain the InforMEA Diploma, you are required to successfully complete all the mandatory courses listed below:

- Introduction to Environmental Governance
- Introduction to Human Rights and the Environment
- Introductory course to International Environmental Law
- Introductory course to the international legal framework on Environmental Impact Assessment
- Effectiveness and Compliance

Learning objectives

At the end of this learning path, you will be able to:

1. Explain the principles and concepts of International Environmental Governance;
2. Describe how international environmental agreements are made and the roles of the different players involved;
3. Explain the relationship between human rights and the environment;
4. Describe the sources of international law and the architecture of a Multilateral Environmental Agreement;
5. Define what an environmental impact assessment is and when and why is needed.
